THE time is at hand for Democrats to prepare for the political contest in November. We have a splendid ticket in the field, around which every Democrat can rally with pride. See that the forces are properly marshaled, and a splendid victory will be the result.

WE will doubtless have an early autumn. There is visible thinning of the foliage, and the trees in the woods are assuming the gorgeous livery of the year. Very soon the smoke of burning leaves will choke the air. It has been the most perfect summer anybody could desire, and there is every prospect that autumn will be as satisfactory and pleasant.

OUR lady friends, who are at this time almost up to their elbows, if not up to their eyes, in jellies, jams preserves, etc., may be glad to know or reminded that fruit stains may be instantly removed from their hands by wetting them in water and holding them over the fumes of burning sulphur or sulphur matches. A convenient way of burning sulphur is to sprinkle some of it on a newspaper and set it on fire.

THERE is a disposition on the part of many people to go out of the city to make purchases of such articles as dry goods, cloaks, wraps, etc. This should not be the case. We have merchants here at home, who spend their money here, who pay taxes and help build up our interests; and who can and do give even better bargains than can be obtained by the purchaser in other places. Patronize home people—people of our own country. This is but right and just.

DEMOCRATS, it is now time to be up and doing. Your opponents are wide awake and are working every conceivable scheme to beat some of the nominees on the Democratic ticket. There is no lie too big for them to tell if thereby they think they can make a break in the Democratic ranks. Don't be deceived by any story you hear for there is not a man on the Democratic ticket but that is honest and capable of filling the office to which he aspires. Vote the straight ticket.

CORRESPONDENT: Yes, you are right, the lady you speak of does use arsenic for her complexion, but she is very much mistaken when she thinks it makes her look pretty. That butter-milk hue which it gives to her countenance is easily detected. Everybody can tell that she uses arsenic, and the first thing she knows the coroner will be cutting her up to find out what she died with. Nothing so good for the complexion as good plain victuals and healthy exercise.

After Tappan's Scalp.

"The Kenyon College boys are under obligations to the Republicans for nominating Prof. Tappan for State School Commissioner."

The speaker was formerly a Student at Kenyon College.

"I suppose all the old college boys will rally to the support of Tappan," remarked the reporter.

"Yes, they'll rally; but with a knife in their boot legs, and won't they whoop up things for Tappan?"

"You don't seem to be stuck on your old instructor?"

"Stuck? Well, I should say not! Neither is any one that went to Kenyon while Tappan had anything to do with the institution. He never treated the students like young men, but, instead, like a lot of small boys, who were entitled to no respect nor becoming treatment. There never was a college professor anywhere who was more thoroughly despised by students than this same Tappan. Why, while I was at Kenyon he was hung in effigy. He has had a mania for office."

The college students well knew this weakness, and at one election every student entitled to a vote scratched the name of his party candidate for Infirmary Director from his ticket and inserted Tappan's name. The people over the county didn't understand why Tappan was voted for in College township but the Students took that means to humiliate him for his general meanness. For a number of years Tappan was President of the college, and from the time he assumed the office to the day he resigned, old Kenyon was on the downward course. The number of students in attendance grew less year after year, and if it had not been heavily endowed it would have been compelled to close its doors while Tappan was at the head of it."

"So the old boys will not rush to the support of Tappan?"

"No, sir; there are many of the old students of Kenyon College, in Ohio, and I guess they all feel gratified to the Republicans for nominating him, thus giving them an opportunity to present their compliments to him by voting against him on election day. Besides, Tappan is not a fit man for the place."

"Why, Prof. Tappan is a learned man."

"Yes, he has plenty of book learning, but that is all. He is simply a theorist. There is nothing practical about him. He never had any experience in the common schools, and if he were placed at the head of the system his term would be one of experiments, which would result to the injury of the common schools. If the people of Ohio were as well acquainted with Prof. Tappan as are the old students of Kenyon, he would be defeated by the largest majority ever cast against a candidate for office in the State of Ohio."

Bishop Fowler, of the Methodist Church, now travelling in Central America, writes to a friend in Chicago glowing accounts of the Argentine Republic, in which country he spent several weeks. He believes that its soil is the most fertile in the world, and predicts that in the next twenty-five years it will be a formidable competitor of the United States for European trade.

THE PLATFORM.

An Admirable Document of Great Strength and With the True Democratic Ring—A Rallying Paper for the People.

The Democracy of Ohio, in convention assembled, congratulates the country upon the fact that the party of the people has been restored to power, and with it the promises of its leaders and hopes of its followers are being fully realized.

2. We cordially endorse the administration of President Cleveland, and we believe the people of all parties are convinced that his official conduct has been marked by great courage and honesty, and we join with him in his efforts to secure a genuine and permanent reform in every branch and department of the public service.

3. We express our sincere sorrow and acknowledge our great loss by the death of that distinguished soldier, orator and statesman, Gen. Durbin Ward. We bear testimony to his courage, integrity and patriotism, and realize that we are indebted to him for wise counsel and fearless advocacy of our cause in our campaigns for many years. We join with the Democrats of the country in mourning over the still more recent loss of that illustrious man, Samuel J. Tilden, who by common consent was the leader of the Democracy of America, and who was honestly and fairly elected the nineteenth President of the United States. We also lament the death of those other distinguished Democrats, Thomas A. Hendricks, the idol and trusted leader for so many years of the Democrats of Indiana, and at the time of his death Vice President of the United States; also of George B. McClellan, Horatio Seymour and Winfield Scott Hancock, who have all been our leaders in contests for the highest office within the gift of our people, and whose courage, wisdom and patriotism have made them names to every true American. The names of these great men, and the memory of their services to our country, remind us that as long as we follow their examples and imitate their virtues so long shall we have brilliant leadership and our cause and party be preserved.

4. Taxes should not be collected beyond the needs of government economically administered, and we hereby reaffirm the principles laid down in our last National platform upon the tariff question, and demand a thorough and just revision of existing tariff laws in accordance with these principles. We heartily approve the policy of paying out the surplus revenues heretofore accumulated in the Treasury, on interest-bearing debt and pensions to disabled soldiers and their widows.

5. Every dollar of unnecessary taxation, State or National, is robbery, and in derogation of the rights of the people. An unnecessary surplus in the treasury is an incentive to corruption and Congressional jobbery, and an oppression of the people whose money is thus locked up beyond their control. The prosperity of a country must necessarily depend largely upon the harmonious relations between labor and capital, and we favor the principle of arbitration in the settlement of all differences between these great interests.

6. We denounce the attempt to change the measure of values in the face of the world's vast debts from gold and silver to gold alone, as an act of monstrous injustice, and demand that both gold and silver, as established by the Constitution shall be maintained as the basis of our money system.

7. We approve the action of the Democratic House of Congress in forfeiting and restoring to the public domain for homesteads for actual settlers nearly a hundred millions of acres of unearned lands heretofore granted by Republican Congresses to railroad corporations, and we also approve the act preventing alien ownership in large tracts of public lands in the United States.

8. We approve the prompt, firm and vigorous action of the present Democratic administration in the protection of American citizens in foreign countries.

9. In common with the Democracy of the country we express our sympathy with Ireland and her great struggle for home rule. The friends of liberty throughout the world are deeply interested in the effort which the supporters of Gladstone and Parnell are now making to give the right to govern themselves to the long-suffering and greatly wronged Irish people, and we sincerely hope the struggle of Ireland for her just rights shall be crowned with complete success.

10. We denounce the usurpations of the Republican Lieutenant Governor and less than a quorum of Republican Senators of the State Senate as acts of revolution, and a grave crime against the constitution of Ohio and a precedent too dangerous to be permitted to pass uncondemned by the people of the State.

11. We demand that every safeguard of the ballot shall be maintained, that the votes of the people shall be honestly cast and honestly counted, and that every crime against the purity of the ballot box shall be promptly and vigorously punished whenever and by whomsoever committed.

12. We denounce and condemn the partisan reorganization of the penal and benevolent institutions of the State, not made with a view to increase the efficiency of their management, but with the intent to control their revenues and incidental powers for partisan purposes, thus dragging down to the basest uses the willing gifts of a generous people for the amelioration of the condition of the unfortunate.

13. We are apposed to an increase in the tax burdens upon the agricultural interests of the State of Ohio as recommended by Governor Foraker in his special message to the Legislature and embodied in bills now pending before that body, and demand that the untaxed wealth now withheld from taxation by evasion and artifice shall be placed upon the tax duplicate, thereby relieving those tax-payers who are already overburdened.

14. We demand home rule for the municipal governments of the State, and denounce the act of the so-called Legislature abolishing the elective officers of Cincinnati and creating in their stead a purely partisan Board appointed by the Governor for purposes of plunder, as in violation of the bill of rights, unconstitutional, unjust, and for the sole purpose of enriching a ring and controlling the elective franchise in the metropolis of the State.

15. We heartily endorse the course of Hon. H. B. Payne as the representative of the State in the Senate of the United States. The purity and integrity of his character are well known to the people of Ohio, and we rejoice that the Republican Senate of the United States refused to become the medium through which the baffled and malicious Republican politicians sought to injure the fair fame of a man whose life is honorably interwoven with the history of the State for more than half a century.

By Request. FAMILY REUNION.

The Zollars Family Noted for Their Longevity.

On the 9th of this month there was a family reunion at the residence of Frederick Zollars, at Macon, which, in some respects, was extraordinary. It was in its primary object a reunion of the brothers and sisters of Mr. Zollars. They were all present, besides about forty of their descendants and relatives, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Van Horn, of Canton, Ohio; and Allen Zollars, of Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Frederick Zollars, the oldest brother, has been a resident of Macon since 1868, and is well and favorably known. He is now eighty-five years old.

Daniel Zollars, the next brother, is seventy-eight years old. He has resided at Ottumwa, Iowa, for many years. Enoch Zollars, the third brother, is seventy-six years old. He is a resident of Creston, Iowa.

John Zollars, the next brother, is seventy-two years old. He is a resident of Napoleon, Ohio.

Cyrus Zollars, the next brother, is seventy years old. During the most of his life he has resided near Canton, Ohio.

The next living member of the family is a sister, Mrs. Agnes Beathers, who is sixty years old. She is a widow and lives at Holden, Mo.

The next brother, and the youngest of the family, is David Zollars, who is fifty-eight years old, and is a wholesale and retail dry goods merchant at Canton, Ohio.

It will be seen that the sum total of the lives of these seven people is 499 years, and that the average age is seventy-one years, three months, and thirteen days. Another remarkable thing is that with the exception of John who has a second wife, all of the brothers are living with their first wives.

The ages of the wives are respectively eighty-one, seventy-five, seventy, sixty-five and sixty years, making a total of 389 years, and an average of sixty-four years and ten months.

The oldest brother, Frederick, will have been married sixty-three years on the 27th day of the coming November. These people are residents of four different states, and the probability is, that in none of those states could there be found another family whose average would be so high, and of which so many brothers of their age still live with the wives of their youth.

They are all people of excellent character, and quite well off—some of them quite wealthy. Most of them have retired from active business. The brothers and sisters are children of John Zollars, who was born in Pennsylvania in 1781, and emigrated to Ohio in 1813.

The mother was the daughter of an officer who served through the war of the revolution. The descendants of that couple now living, number 193. If all were living, there would be 278. Many of the business avocations, and professions, have had, and now have, representatives among these descendants. Of the official positions now held by them, or any of them, we have no means of knowing at present, except that Hon. Allen Zollars, a son of Frederick, is now one of the judges of the supreme court of Indiana. We know, too, that quite a number of them did honorable service in the late war and that quite a number have given their lives in defense of the institutions which their ancestors helped to found and establish.

We can scarcely realize the length of the lives of these people, without a retrospect, the events amid which they were born, and the changes that have come to the world since. We take the oldest, Frederick, who was born in 1801. He was born but two years after the death of Washington, and in the year that Jefferson was elected president. At that time there were but sixteen States in the union, with a population of but five and one-half millions. At the time of his birth most of the early movers in American independence, the framers of the constitution, the great commanders, and the patriotic soldiers of the Revolution were still living. In his boyhood, he heard from the survivors the story of the trials, privations, and sacrifices of the heroic and patriotic soldiers of the Revolution. He was born one year before life boats were known; one year before the first importation of Marino sheep into this country; two years before the United States purchased from France Louisiana, which comprised nearly all the vast territory west of the Mississippi; three years before Bonaparte was crowned Emperor, four years before the historic battles of Austerlitz and Trafalgar. He was six years old when Robert Fulton launched the first steamboat on the Hudson. He was eight years old when Madison was elected President. He was ten years old when Gen. Harrison fought in the battle of Tippecanoe. He was eleven years old when United States declared war against Great Britain. He was the same age when the French evacuated Moscow and began the disastrous retreat which was the precursor of the overthrow of Napoleon. He was twelve years old when the great chief Tecumseh was killed. He was thirteen years old when the British burned the government buildings at Washington. He was fourteen years old when Jackson fought the battle of New Orleans and when Napoleon fought and lost the battle of Waterloo. He was sixteen years old when the first deaf and dumb asylum was established in this country. He was seventeen years old when Illinois was admitted into the union. He was eighteen years old when the first steamer sailed for Europe. He was nineteen years old when George III died. He was twenty-four years old when General Lafayette laid the corner stone of Bunker Hill monument. He was twenty-eight years old when the first railroad locomotive was brought from England and placed on exhibition in New York. He was thirty-nine years old when the first line of telegraph was put into operation between Washington and Baltimore. During his life the States have increased from sixteen to thirty-eight, and the population from five and one-half to nearly sixty millions. The sickle and hand rake; the flail and threshing floor, the rude plow and harrow have given way to the mower, the reaper, the self-binder, the horse rake, the steam plow, the corn-planter, the cultivator, the horse drill, and the thrasher and cleaner. The pack horse, the stage and the sailing vessel have given way to the lightning train and palatial steamer. The tardy motion of communication by mail, carried on horseback and by stage, has been supplanted by the mail car, the telegraph and telephone. The world has been wrapped and bound into a smaller compass by the speed of the ocean steamer, the iron railway and the wires of the telegraph and telephone. And thus the countries which in his youth were regarded as afar off, have been brought close to us, and their people have become our next door neighbors. The lands of Judea and Galilee, where our Lord walked, taught and performed his miracles and dispensed his mercies, are not so far away now as was the mother country in his youth. An enlarged and enlightened state policy, and organized christian charities, have erected asylums for the deaf and dumb, the blind, the insane, the helpless, the orphan, the old and infirm. Surfdom and slavery have almost disappeared from the earth, and everything has been and now is rapidly tending towards the universal brotherhood of mankind. And thus as the gas and electric lights have displaced the tallow candle of his youth, so the common schools, multiplied colleges, and a christian benevolence have been working together for the amelioration of the race. Into the glorious light and liberty of this, the most remarkable of all the centuries, he was born, and in it he and they have lived, witnesses of its stirring events, until the century has grown old.

It is to be hoped that in the final consummation, this family and all other families may be reunited, in that better country, where the years shall work no separation.

A NEW LEASE OF LIFE.

When one has been suffering the agonies of a severe attack of rheumatism, neuralgia or sciatica and relief comes, it seems as if a new lease of life had been granted. Such have been the feelings of thousands who, after trying physicians and numberless remedies, have used Athlophoros and found to their great joy that this medicine really did cure these diseases.

O. P. Shaffer, formerly managing editor of the News-Register, Youngstown, O., said in a recent interview with him: "I have suffered from rheumatism for about thirteen years. At different intervals I have been unable to attend to my business for weeks at a time. The most of my trouble was in my hands and arms. The pain was usually accompanied with considerable swelling of my hands. During these years I have used many kinds of remedies with only temporary relief. Being in the newspaper business I had come in contact with various medicines that were advertised in our columns, but really never had much faith in patent medicines. A little over three years ago my attention was called to Athlophoros. I noticed from time to time the strong endorsement of parties that had used the remedy and was sent to us for publication in our paper. Through this means I concluded to try the medicine for my own case. I was relieved and cured in a remarkably short time."

"Have you been troubled with rheumatism since," was asked. "I was entirely rid of it for two years and then had another slight attack, but a few doses of Athlophoros soon drove it away; since that time, about a year ago, I have been entirely free from rheumatism. This was all done with less than a bottle of medicine. I always recommend it for rheumatism."

Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they cannot be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills. For liver and kidney diseases, dyspepsia, indigestion, weakness, nervous debility, diseases of women, constipation, headache, impure blood, etc., Athlophoros Pills are unequalled.
